LOCAL BREVITIES

J. W. Francis has sold a Studebaker "Six" to the county.

F. M. Pribble, claim adjuster for the Santa Fe, spent Monday here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Yeager went to Phoenix on Sunday for a stay of a week or so.

C. A. Black tore himself away from his store long enough to spend Tuesday in Phoenix.

House to rent, either for light housekeeping or for gentlemen. Call on Mrs. Mondragon, at Herman store.

Dr. and Mrs. M. O. Dumas are expected home the first week in this month from their California wedding trip.

Mrs. Alice Barclay, of Clarkdale, came Sunday night for a couple of days' visit with her brother, Walter Carlson.

Adolph Boenitsch and Walter Carlson went to Williams Saturday night to attend one of those frequent and most enjoyable dances.

Miss Carrie M. Shoff, of Phoenix, returned home on Sunday night after visiting several days here with her sister, Mrs. E. C. Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. John Juhl, of Williams, came up Tuesday night to stay over the dawn of the new year with their daughter, Mrs. R. J. Connor.

E. M. Davis, of Fort Valley, on Monday made his last of several consecutive trips to town, hauling in grain for his brother, also a ranchman out there.

Eric Denver tore himself away from rural life at Bellemont long enough on Monday to transact a little business and have a little visit with his friends here in town.

"Resolved—That I will let no child suffer if it is within my power to prevent." Having made that resolution, write to the Arizona headquarters of the Near East Relief and learn how you can keep it.

W. B. Goble and W. H. Morse will begin at once extensive remodeling of the Flagstaff Lumber Co. office, putting in hardwood floors and beautifying the place generally. Mr. Morse will begin on Monday at the First National bank, revarnishing and polishing the fixtures.

Hunger knows no armistice. The war is over but the effects of the war are today overwhelming the Near East.

Mrs. C. P. Heisser, at St. Joseph's hospital, Phoenix, is slowly getting better, though Mr. Heisser says it will be several weeks before she will be able to return here.

The Coconino Sun has the largest circulation of any newspaper in northern Arizona, and can thus guarantee its advertisers more readers at less cost than any other paper.

F. F. TenEyck, who clerked in the hardware department at Babbitts here last fall, and who is now manager of that department in their Winslow store, was up for a day's visit.

Joe Wilson, cashier of the Arizona Central Bank, is feeling more like himself again, after being laid up for several days with a very bad cold. He had to spend a day or two in bed.

Frank Bennett is taking an enforced vacation from his business and the increasing importunities of his customers for "more coal," being sick with malaria at the home of Frank Boll.

H. B. Fay went to Tucson the first of this week to do a big job of surveying. It is likely that he will not be able to finish it up in time to get back to his home here before spring.

Ralph H. Cameron, former delegate to congress, arrived in Flagstaff Monday from New York on a short visit to his brother Bert Cameron. He was on his way to Phoenix to join his family.

J. G. and H. D. Tillman, of the New White garage, have sold a new Reo touring car and a new Reo truck to County Supervisor Chas. T. Woolfolk. Charlie must be a Reo fan, for he now has six cars of that make.

Jimmie Davison, hide buyer from Albuquerque, was here the other day. He says business is good but not so exciting as when he went into Old Mexico a few months ago and bought 40 carloads of hides from Villa. Jimmie carried the gold along with him, but had an armed escort from Juarez and back.

Dolph Bader has been entertaining his "buddy" in the army, Robert Lee, of Mississippi, who was on his way to California, where he will live. Dolph and Bob chummed together almost from the day they enlisted until they were discharged, last spring, since when Bob had been helping his brother on the latter's ranch.

I. P. McConkey leaves for Jerome on a business trip Sunday.

Miss Jane McConkey, of Milton, is spending the week-end in Williams, the house guest of Mrs. E. H. Duffield.

E. H. Duffield, Jr., of Williams, who has been visiting friends in town for several days, returned to his home Wednesday.

Mrs. R. C. Creswell, of Winslow, who had been here for a week visiting her daughter, Mrs. Herman Kahl, has returned home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Merritt, matron of Bury Hall, is spending the holiday vacation at the home of her daughter Mrs. Alex. Johnston.

Wallace Main, who formerly worked for Joe Waldhaus, and Miss Emma Escapule, a graduate of the Normal school, were married in Mesa.

Chicago police advised New Year celebrators, "There's many a slip between the hip and the lip," indicating from "hip to nip may get a clip."

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Babbitt recently returned from their wedding trip, are setting up housekeeping in the Frier house, next to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Babbitt's home on North Leroux street.

The Coconino Sun regularly carries more advertising than any other paper in northern Arizona. Why? Because advertisers realize that they get better returns from Sun readers than any other medium.

C. Becker and wife, of Toledo, O., who had been here for several days visiting their son, G. C. Becker, left Monday afternoon for Los Angeles, where they will stay this winter, returning here to live next spring.

A. J. Sullivan is carrying out the threat he recently made to install plate glass show windows of the latest approved kind, and when the work is completed it will make this store as up-to-date in looks as it is in methods.

Joe Blumberg, president of the J. Herman Dry Goods & Clothing Co., left Wednesday night to spend New Year's day in Phoenix and expects to go to Los Angeles before he comes back, which will be in a couple of weeks.

A party of young people, armed with all kinds of noise-producing instruments, made a call one night last week on two newly-wed couples on North Agassiz street. Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Osler and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hogan.

M. T. Connors, of Parks, was in Flagstaff Tuesday. Mr. Connors says he spent Christmas day on his ranch in a very agreeable way, at least to him—he was threshing out his oats and they made him a present of 75 bushels to the acre.

Dr. and Mrs. M. O. Dumas returned yesterday morning from their wedding trip to California and are now at the home of Mrs. Dumas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Francis, where their many friends are calling and extending congratulations.

John Lugin, the lumber genius at Greenlaw's camp, writes that "everything is all o. k. at camp; winter about gone and robins are here—they wake us up every morning." We are rather inclined to believe that "Robins" must be the name of the cook.

D. E. Fefferly, manager of the local telephone company, who married, in Pasadena, Calif., on December 24, Miss May Anderson, teacher of domestic science at the Glendale, Ariz., high school, arrived here with his bride on Wednesday night.

John H. Lind, manager of the hardware department at Babbitts, plans to go to Santa Monica, Cal., in a few days, or as soon as annual inventory is completed, to enjoy a month's vacation with his wife and daughter, Miss Cecelia, who are living there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hash left Wednesday night for their future home in Phoenix, after goodbyes with their many friends, said with real regret on both sides. Mr. Hash is manager of the new wholesale dry goods house being installed in Phoenix by the Babbitts.

Mrs. George Babbitt was Lady Bountiful to nearly forty of the children of poor Mexican people at her home one afternoon this week. She had a big Christmas tree, with presents on it for each of the little ones, and gave them all a lot of good things to eat.

E. S. Carlos is back from Blythe, Cal., where he went in November with the avowed intention of staying all winter. However, he found that the climate and other attractions there did not come up to advertisement nor to the high standard maintained here; so he moseyed back.

Dr. N. F. Wetmore, of Los Angeles, has been here for some time visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Phillips, who were former neighbors of his in Los Angeles. He was on his way home from the east when he stopped off, and now he says he is almost persuaded to spend the rest of the winter here.

Judge George Hance, of Camp Verde, is in Flagstaff this week on business connected with the estate of his brother, Capt. John Hance, and is visiting old friends of years standing. He expects to meet two nieces, Miss Bessie Monemaker and Miss Mosa Simerall, of Rolla, Mo., who will spend several months with him at Camp Verde.

Roy Baird will go east on the 15th to meet his wife, who will arrive at Hoboken from Denmark, where she visited for several months. Her sister, Mrs. J. J. Slamon, of Ash Fork, who went across with her, will remain in Denmark for six months longer. Mr. and Mrs. Baird will spend two weeks visiting his mother in Kansas and friends in Pueblo and Denver.

Postmaster Heisser is doing a rushing business with his government store in the basement of the Kahl Drug Co. store. It is a cash and carry proposition, and is working well while the goods last. There is a feeling, however, among the merchants that they are not exactly getting a square deal. Their objection is not so much at the loss of the trade as it is the comparison of prices, the goods being sold for less than the merchant can possibly buy them of the wholesaler or factory. They claim that the sale of Liberty bonds by the government is the only reason even the government is able to sacrifice the goods that way.

Good morning! Have you taken your wood alcohol yet?

Glenn and C. I. Crump have gone to Clarkdale to spend the winter.

"Cold air does not lower tire pressure," says an exchange. Hot air is more apt to tire any one.

The Sun does high grade job printing of all kinds. Prompt deliveries and reasonable prices at all times.

Wm. Roden, who is spending most of the winter in California, is back with his old friends here for a few days.

Mrs. B. Bedegrain and family left this week for Wickenburg, where they will remain during the rest of the winter.

George Verkamp has returned from Los Angeles, where he spent Christmas at the home of his uncle, John Verkamp.

Harry Jackson is back from Holbrook and is in charge of the repair department at J. B. Gunter's Flagstaff garage.

Frank Sufea is improving the time while his photographic studio is undergoing alterations by taking a vacation in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Norris, who had been here visiting at the home of Mrs. Norris' father, J. D. Dunn, have returned to their home in Phoenix.

What better New Year's resolution than to bring back health and happiness to a starving child. The Arizona headquarters of the Near East Relief, Phoenix, will tell you how.

Next week is the Week of Prayer at the Federated church and, beginning Monday night, there will be services at the church every night up to and including Friday night.

W. H. Morse has been painting the floors and ceilings of Dr. P. Paul Zinn's offices in the McMillan building during the latter's absence in California. Dr. Zinn is expected home today.

Wilson & Coffin, the plumbers, are sending "Slim" Henderson, one of their experts, to Tuba City today, with a plumbing outfit which he will install at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kerley.

M. I. Powers, president of the Citizens bank, had as dinner guests on Wednesday night at his home on N. Leroux street, P. H. Nelson, Roger A. Morse and Miss Mataka Wilburn, of the bank, and the Misses Jeanette Wilburn and Isabelle Logsdon.

E. M. Brown left on Wednesday for his home in Los Angeles, after being here for a few weeks to help his brother, Willis Brown, take care of the Christmas jewelry trade. His little daughter, Ethel, who had been here with her grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Manning, returned with him.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brown went to Camp Verde last Friday, to visit Mr. Brown's little daughter, who is attending school there. They returned home Wednesday night. Roy Baird got temporary leave from his duties at the depot and helped Brother Lowry run the newsstand in the boss' absence.

Mrs. V. A. Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bader, who came here from Jerome with her husband to spend the holidays, is very ill. Robert Lee, of Mississippi, who came here a few days ago to visit his former army "buddy," Dolph Bader, is also very sick at the Bader home, with malaria.

Judge J. E. Jones has gone to Phoenix, where he will go to Kingman, in time to hold court there next week, after which he will go on to Los Angeles to join Mrs. Jones, who has been there for several weeks at the home of their son, Fenton Jones. It will be two or three weeks before Judge and Mrs. Jones return.

Mrs. W. H. Power, proprietor of the Power Hat Shop, and her assistant, Mrs. Frank Thomas, will leave between the 10th and 12th of this month for Chicago, perhaps going to St. Louis and Cincinnati also, to buy spring and summer millinery. They expect to be gone a month or more, devoting part of the time to resting up from this season's work.

Judge X. N. Steeves, of Williams, and W. W. Herne, one of the editors of the Williams News, attended the Farrell trial, though the judge was here on Monday only. Herne sat all through the trial, and when he left had taken several hundred pages of closely written notes; so we may look for a 40-page edition of the News this week, with nothing else in it but an account of the trial.

G. J. Robinson and Frank Smith, the former a well-known stockman, and the latter a prosperous home-steader, both from Williams, were in Flagstaff Wednesday, partly on business and partly to take a look around and visit their friends in this good lil' ol' city. George said he hadn't been here before in three years, and he seemed properly repentant for his lack of neighborliness.

W. J. Titus and wife and son Fred, of Council Grove, Kans., left Sunday to spend the winter on the coast after a few days' visit here with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Cress. Mr. Titus is a wealthy retired farmer, whose farm adjoined that of Loren's father, and with whose oldest son Loren chummed when a kid and made things lively for the rest of the neighborhood. The Tituses were charmed with our climate.

M. I. Powers, president of the Citizens bank, who intended to leave on Tuesday for a week in California, received word that his brother, Dr. J. C. Powers, of Hampton, Iowa, is to undergo a serious surgical operation, and left early yesterday morning to be with him. Dr. Powers is very well known here and has many friends who will be anxious to know that he has successfully withstood the coming ordeal.

Lester Power, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Power, who returned from Siberia and was discharged from the navy only about two months ago, is going to keep on seeing the world. He leaves tonight for San Francisco, and intends to take steamer at once for Australia. If he likes it there he may stay; though his present plans are to sail from Australia in the early summer for South America, where he has a good opportunity as a civil engineer with the Guggenheim mining interests.

worthy patron; Mrs. Lenore Dumas, associate matron; Mrs. Elizabeth Woolfolk, conductress; Mrs. Althea Wilson, associate conductor; Mrs. G. F. Manning, senior treasurer; Mrs. Henrietta Myers, secretary; Mrs. Effie Nichols, Mrs. Leona Coffin, Mrs. Cora Fredericks, Mrs. Bernice Marshall and Mrs. Anna Boll, star points; Mrs. Josie Weidner, warder; C. C. Fredericks, sentinel; Mrs. W. H. Switzer, marshal; Mrs. Mabel Robinson, organist.

The Masons held second degree initiation last Friday night and will handle some more initiates on Monday night.

ANNUAL MEETING OF COUNTY BOARD

The county board of supervisors held their annual meeting on Wednesday, continuing it until Monday of next week. C. T. Woolfolk and Lou Charlebois came up from Phoenix to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Woolfolk returned to Phoenix on Wednesday night, leaving Messrs. Fred Garing and Charlebois to attend to such further matters as may come up Monday.

One of the things the board will do is to appoint a fair price committee for the county, also an inspector to make sure that the rulings against profiteering are enforced.

DEPUTY CITY CLERK JOB IS STILL OPEN

Just who the new deputy city clerk will be is again "up in the air." L. C. Stevenson, who was offered the position, received a more remunerative offer from Fred J. Lusk, who wanted him to come over and keep books and do stenographic work in connection with the Flavo and Klim business, prevailed upon him to accept. Mr. Stevenson first getting City Clerk Clarence Pulliam's consent. J. W. Piner, formerly with The Sun, later with the Leader, and now with Babbitts, is mentioned for the place.

DENNY COREY RECOVERING FROM SPINAL MENINGITIS

Denny Corey, the 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corey, of Fort Valley, who enlisted in the navy last August and was assigned to the electrical school at Mare Island, started home on a leave of absence and was taken sick on the train. Arriving home he did not improve and it was discovered he was suffering with spinal meningitis. He was taken to the Milton hospital for treatment and yesterday it was reported that he was much improved, with every hope of his ultimate recovery.

DWYER SEEKS DIVORCE

Ernest Dwyer, who was prominently mentioned in connection with the Farrell murder case, through being a neighbor of the Farrells, for whom he was working when the shooting occurred, but who was cleared from all suspicion in the killing by the testimony taken at the trial, has entered suit for divorce from his wife. Harben & Gold are his attorneys.

MEXICAN BORDER SERVICE MEDALS

All soldiers who served on the Mexican border may now obtain the "Mexican Border Service" medal by writing to the adjutant general of the United States army, Washington, D. C., and requesting that this medal be granted them, enclosing their discharge papers and stating their regiment and time and place of service on the border. This medal is very pretty and every man entitled to it should make an effort to get it as soon as possible.

LIVESTOCK AND RANGE CONDITIONS IN ARIZONA

Although nights have been cool, pleasant daytime temperatures and an abundance of sunshine over the entire district have been favorable for livestock of all kinds. The snow has disappeared almost entirely from the yearlong ranges of Arizona and western New Mexico, making available an abundance of excellent pasture. Practically no feeding is being done except in small herds where range is somewhat limited. Stock conditions over the northeastern plateau where last year grass was short and the range over-grazed are reported by our correspondents as "Good, plenty grass and water."

Livestock conditions on the Apache Indian Reservation continue good, cattle and horses there reported as doing fine. Thousands of sheep and goats are wintering in the Congress Junction section of Arizona and are in most satisfactory condition.

Crop Progress in Arizona. Cotton picking made satisfactory progress during the week and is rapidly nearing its end. Those in a position to know state that picking is fully six weeks in advance of last year and gaining the same. The early completion of picking will be of decided advantage to farmers enabling them to prepare for the coming season.

"WALKING KEEPS FLU AWAY"

That walking is the best cure for influenza, was the statement of Robert L. Marshall, 68, member of the board of directors, Cincinnati section, American Walkers' association, in a letter to Bertha A. Searle, educational director of the Public Health federation. Mr. Marshall said that during the influenza epidemic in Cincinnati last years, out of forty regular walkers there was not a case.

Hikes Saturday afternoon and evenings are made of from seven to ten miles, while Sunday the walkers frequently make from twenty to thirty miles.

TO SHIP OIL TO GERMANY

The Standard Oil company of New Jersey soon will resume business with Germany. The first fleet of tank steamers from Germany since 1914 is expected to arrive within a short time to take back a diversified cargo of petroleum products.
